The Practical Side of the High License Question—How Taxes Are Expended.

The saloon license question has, very properly, been transferred from the City Council to the State Legislature at Springfield, appearing there in several forms. This proposed "high" license, as it is called (at $500 a year it would be about $10 per week; at the present figure, $52, it is just $1 per week), will attract general attention. The Harper bill of course includes all other cities in the State as well as Chicago; and the movers and friends of this so-called "high license" measure will not only meet opposition from the united saloon keepers of Chicago, but will find the saloon keepers of the entire State arrayed against them. The effort is to be made, however, and regardless of politics, and the movers and friends say "with a good prospect of success." A warm contest is inevitable, and "high license" will doubtless prove one of the greatest issues of the present session. It is now, and will continue to be, an absorbing topic in Chicago. The saloon keepers complain that, if the annual license is increased to $500, or any other sum above the present $52 figure, they (the saloon keepers) will "thus be made to pay a proportion of the taxes enormously greater than any other branch of business." In order to ascertain and let the public know whether or not this is true, reporters were detailed several days ago to collect authentic facts and figures on the subject and present them in a general article, special attention being directed to the burdens that the sale of drink lays upon us as a community—what percentage of crime, casualty, pauperism, lunacy, etc., in Chicago, is directly traceable to the sale of drink in Chicago, and what proportion of the taxation would be just to impose on the saloon keepers. The careful research of the reporters is given herewith, together with other matter pertaining to the so-called "high" license question.

STARTLING STATISTICS—WHAT WE PAY FOR DRINK—FOOD AND CLOTHING.

In this connection some authentic (official) figures, covering the sale of drink throughout the whole country, have been obtained, and can be given. They are indeed startling. Mr. Joseph Nimmo, chief of the bureau of statistics, in the treasury department, estimates the sale of liquors in the United States for a single fiscal year at $600,000,000, distributed as follows:

Whiskey, 60,000,000 gallons	$360,000,000
Imported spirits, 2,500,000 gallons	25,000,000
Imported wines, 10,700,000 gallons	53,500,000
Ale, beer and porter, 6,500,000 barrels	130,000,000
Native brandies, wines and cordials	31,500,000
Total	$600,000,000

Here are some comparisons that are, indeed, "odious." The value of the manufacturing industries for the same fiscal year were:

Flour and grist mill products	$444,985,143
Molasses and sugars (raw and refined)	119,826,379
Cotton goods	177,489,739
Woolen goods	155,405,358
Boots and shoes	146,704,055

It appears by the same census that the aggregate wages paid by all the manufacturing establishments of the country for the same year were $775,584,343—not 30 per cent. in excess of the drink bill.

The total income of all the schools of learning, public and private, from every source for the year is given as $95,402,726, not one sixth of the sum spent on liquors. The whole printing and publishing bill is but $66,862,441.

All the libraries in the country, public and private, are said to contain 45,528,938 volumes. Reckon the average value at $2 a volume and it will give as the value $91,057,876, so that we drink up our books in less than two months.

THE ENTIRE CHURCH PROPERTY of the United States is valued at $354,483,581. If it were all to burn up, about six months of abstinence would replace it.

The census gives the total aggregate of State taxation in 1870 (including therein all territorial, State, county, and municipal taxes) as $280,591,521—not one-half the direct tax the liquor consumers lay upon themselves; while the whole public indebtedness (exclusive of the national debt, of course) is set down at $868,676,758—which could be swept off by the direct saving from less than a year and a half of abstinence.

Sales of liquor, wine, beer, etc., in Great Britain, for the year 1870 aggregated £119,082,235. This is a somewhat less sum than ours, but it represents a larger consumption at a much less price per gallon. The sum for 1878 is reckoned at £140,014,712. [The population of the United Kingdom was 31,817,108 in 1871, and that of the United States 38,558,371 in 1870.]

In 1872 there were 161,144 persons paying to the United States government a retailers' license to sell liquors. Consider the number who evaded, the number of bartenders who served employers, and the increase since, and it is easy to conclude that 300,000 is a moderate estimate of the number who are now solely or mainly

EMPLOYED IN THE BUSINESS.

Thus, beside the spending of $600,000,000 per year for drink, an army of 300,000 persons are withdrawn from all useful industry. Chicago "holds her own," according to population, in all these figures which have been compared.

Judge Robert C. Pitman says: "Some statisticians estimate the indirect cost of intoxicating liquors to a people as only equal to the direct. But this is a mere guess. We have to leave our figures when we ponder the pecuniary losses and burdens which the accidents, the impaired power of production, the pauperism, the disease and death, and the crime which result from alcoholic drink impose upon us. They are not the less grave because they elude computation.

VICTIMS ON EVERY HAND—EXPENSE TO THE CITY EVERY WAY.

The reporters interviewed city officials, justices, the police authorities, judges, court clerks, jailers, hospital stewards, the Coroner, the Morgue-keeper, the County Agent, the Poor-house officials—every one in position to know or to intelligently estimate the proportion of crime, casualty, pauperism, and lunacy in Chicago, resulting directly from the sale of drink here. The presiding judge in one of the county courts said: "You may ransack the pigeon-holes all over the city and county, and look over such annual reports as are made up, but they will not tell half the truth. Not only are the saloons of Chicago responsible for the cost of the police force, the fifteen justice courts, the Bridewell, etc., but also for the criminal courts, the County Jail, a great portion of Joliet, the long murder trials, the Coroner's office, the Poor-house, the Reform School, the mad-house, etc. Go anywhere you please and you will find almost invariably that whiskey is at the root of the evil. The gambling-houses of the city and the bad houses of the city are the direct outgrowth and the boon companions of drink. Of all the thousands of prostitutes of Chicago, the downfall of almost every one can be on the part of their parents or husbands, or drunkenness on their own part. The gamblers and prostitutes are supposed to be watched by the police as well as the sandbaggers. Of all the boys in the reform school at Pontiac and in the various reformatory institutions about the city, 95 per cent. are the children of people who died through drink or became criminals from the same cause. Look at the defalcations; fully 90 per cent. of them come about through drink and dissipation. Go into the divorce courts; fully 90 per cent. of the divorces come about by drink, or drink and adultery both. Of the insane or demented cases disposed of in court here every Thursday, a moderate estimate is that 70 per cent. are alcoholism and its effect. I saw it estimated the other day that there are 10,000 destitute boys in Chicago who are not confined at all, but are running at large. I think that is a small estimate. Men are sent to prison for drunkenness, and what become of their families? The county agent and the poorhouse provide for some. It is a direct expense to the community. Generally speaking these families go to destruction. The boys turn out as thieves, and the girls and mothers generally resort themselves to the slums.

THE SANDBAGGERS, MURDERERS

and thugs generally of to-day, who are prosecuted in the police courts and the criminal courts, are the sons of men who fell victims to drink. The percentage in this case is fully 95 per cent. I have studied this question for years and have passed upon criminal cases for years, and I know whereof I speak. That excellent institution, the Washingtonian Home, is of course made necessary by the saloon keepers of Chicago. The Industrial Woman's Home is peopled with the wives and children of drunkards. Then, there is the House of the Good Shepherd, the Erring Woman's Home, the Home for the Friendless, the Foundlings' Home and other institutions, all of which are made necessary by the retail rum traffic. For the saloon keepers to say $500 or $1,000 or $10,000 is too high a figure for saloon license, 'because other branches of business are not taxed proportionately,' will not do. Other branches of business do not cost the city and county as liquor selling does. I, of course, don't claim to be at all original in pointing out the general ruin and blight and expense brought about by drink. Charles Buxton, M. P., the English brewer, says: 'If we generated in our times by war, famine, and pestilence, the three great scourges of mankind, they do not exceed those that spring from drink.' John Bright used to say 'the love of strong drink is the greatest obstacle to the diffusion of education among the masses of the people.' Mr. Bruce, the Home Secretary under the Gladstone Ministry, said 'the liquor traffic was not only a great evil, but was the greatest of all evils with which social reformers had to contend.' The Archbishop of Canterbury, in a recent visitation charge, gives this solemn warning: 'There is one dreadful evil overspreading the whole land which makes havoc with our workingmen—the evil of drink. Unless you make distinct and positive efforts against it, you will be neglecting an evil which is eating out the very heart of society, destroying domestic life among our working classes, and perhaps doing greater injury than any other cause that could be named in this age.' Dr. Temple, the bishop of Exeter, recently said: 'Of all the preventable evils in the world, drunkenness is perhaps the greatest.' An able editorial in the London Times sums up the matter thus: 'The bee of strong drink produces more idleness, crime, want and misery than all other causes put together.' In vetoing the local option bill, Governor Dix, of New York, said: 'The liquor traffic is the

of all the crime, pauperism and domestic misery of the State.' Gov. Gaston, in a message to the Massachusetts Legislature, says: 'Intemperance has been the most prolific source of poverty, wretchedness and crime. It has filled the State and the country with its destructive influences, and its progress everywhere heralds only misfortune, misery and degradation.'

"In his excellent work on 'Alcohol and the State,'" continued the judge, "Robert C. Pitman, of Massachusetts, whom I have been reading, says: 'It remains true that we may draw a rough, practical line between the individual and the social suffering that flows from this vice, drink, and so we shall say nothing here of the burdens of the heart; nothing here of sorrows or losses that seem to touch the individual and not the community. The field of misery is so large that we are abundantly content with this limitation.' Some of the chapters of this work of Pitman are headed: 'Waste,' 'Destruction of Home,' 'The Parent of Pauperism,' 'Injury to Public Health,' 'The chief Occasion of Crime,' 'Vitiated Human Stock,' 'The Universal Ally of Evil, the Universal Antagonist of Good,' 'The Province of Law,' 'Extent of Legislative Power,' 'Law a Necessity,' 'License,' 'Half-way Measures,' 'The Milder Alcoholics,' 'The History of Prohibition,' 'Law as a Teacher,' 'Enforcement,' etc."

GROCERY BARS.

"Now, Mr. Reporter," said the Judge, "I will conclude by indorsing a suggestion which has been proposed as a great help to the situation in Chicago. About every grocery store in the city has a bar connected with it. I want to warmly and heartily indorse the suggestion that whiskey bars be removed from the grocery stores. These grocery bars are even worse than the saloons. Families have pass-books at the groceries, and these grocery bars are making drunkards and bringing about misery in thousands of families who would otherwise escape."

RAGE OF STRONG DRINK—A SINGLE REFORMATORY INSTITUTION'S SHOWING.

At the Washingtonian Home, an institution well known in Chicago and throughout the country for its success in reforming drunkards, the superintendent, Prof. Daniel Wilkins, was seen and conversed with by a reporter. On January 1, 1882, there were 79 inmates; inmates admitted during the year 1882 were 670; total 749, of whom 661 were residents of Chicago. The expenses of the home during the year were $41,860.71. By the professions or occupations of these 749 drinking men of the home "class of 1882," it would seem that "they all do it." Following is the record:

DRUNKENNESS CLASSIFIED.

These inmates of the home for 1882 are classified as follows:

Periodical drinkers, 680; constant drinkers, 69; habit acquired, 736; hereditary (as claimed), 13; having had delirium tremens, 147; delirium tremens while in the home, 16; died while connected with the home, 2; opium patients, 6; committed by justices, 102; average daily attendance during the year, 794; average time of inmates in the home, days, 374.

The ages and conditions were as follows: Between 20 and 30, 107; 30 and 40, 287; 40 and 50, 239; 50 and 60, 98; 60 and 70, 18; 70 and 80, 0; total, 749. Residents of Chicago, 661; single, 290; married, 370; widowers, 89.

CONSTANTLY INCREASING.

Only a certain proportion of Chicago's drunkards get into the home. Each year the number of inmates there increases, indicating, of course, an increase in drunkenness. Notwithstanding the greatest efforts made to save men, the saloons turn out drunkards faster than they can be reformed. The number of inmates at the home each year from 1866 have been as follows: 1867, 135; 1868, 127; 1869, 155; 1870, 230; 1871, 280; 1872, 166; 1873, 199; 1874, 299; 1875, 274; 1876, 268; 1877, 299; 1878, 273; 1879, 412; 1880, 576; 1881, 600; 1882, 749.

Total since home was founded, 5,191.

And this is only one of Chicago's institutions for the reformation or recuperation and care of saloon keepers' victims.

THE NUMBER OF ARRESTS.

The number of arrests for simple drunkenness, or "drunk and disorderly," as shown in the police reports, does not indicate in any measure the number of drinking men and drunkards who are arrested, for, if a crime is committed, the prisoner is charged with the crime, whatever it is, and nothing is said of the drunkenness. A large percentage of the whole number of arrests (for ever crime in the calendar) are shown in court daily to be due directly or indirectly to drink. Here are the arrests for a single year in Chicago, as given in the official police reports compared with official reports for other cities:

	Whole number.	Drunk and disorderly.
Chicago	31,713	15,976
Boston	26,897	13,438
New York	71,699	48,191
Philadelphia	44,000	27,205
San Francisco	25,799	10,000

Even as the official police reports are made up in Chicago, it appears that the number of arrests for drunkenness and disorderly conduct (assaults, etc.) for one year were 15,976, or more than half of the whole number of arrests.

THE BIRTHPLACE OF ALL EVIL—CRIME, CASUALTY, PAUPERISM, LUNACY.

Abundant authority has been quoted to the effect that the liquor traffic is responsible for most every crime, for most of the pauperism and for much of the lunacy. It is also a fact that a large percentage of the accidents, casualties and wholesale horrors—like the Milwaukee holocaust—are due directly to whiskey drinking. The fire which destroyed Chicago in 1871 originated through drunkenness. The sorrows, the griefs and the sufferings of all humanity can be traced directly or indirectly, in a majority of instances, to drink. If present sufferers do not themselves drink and never did drink, then their parents, their husbands, their wives or their children drink or did drink. There is not a reporter connected with a metropolitan newspaper who has not seen victims of the grog shop from health and prosperity down to the grave of the pauper. In his rounds, a reporter has to visit various institutions, and these cases are bound to come under his notice. Many good men taken with the drinking habit, have been saved in institutions like the Washingtonian Home, but the great majority are "above" reformatory institutions, and go their own way. The reporter has seen them in good position, and leading lights in the church and in society. After a time he has seen these same men arraigned in the police courts or the criminal court, and has then seen them in jail. He has seen some of them on the gallows—has seen drunkards at both ends of the rope, for that matter. He has seen them lying in the hospital in the last stages of dissolution, and he has seen them lying on slabs at the Morgue, cold in death—drowned, perhaps; killed by accident, perhaps; murdered, in some cases, and often suicides, but victims of whiskey just the same. And the families of these men—what of them? They were supported for a time by the county agent, but finally went to destruction. The boys became desperate characters and drank themselves, and the girls went to the bad as most neglected girls do. The

IN EVERY STAGE,

WHOLE FAMILIES FELL VICTIM.

In his new work on 'Alcohol and the State,' Judge Pitman says of "drink as the chief occasion of crime":

1. Drunkenness itself is, by statute and by season, a crime—a social nuisance.
2. Drink excites the evil passions; how much or how little it takes to do so is a question of temperament and circumstances.
3. It fortifies crime.
4. It throws off the reins of prudence. Recklessness is one of the first fruits of drink. Reason teaches that crime is folly; alcohol clouds the reason.
5. It tempts to crime, especially to lust and robbery, by putting the victim in the power of the criminal.
6. And emboldens to crime by rendering its detection difficult when the necessary witness is wholly or partially insensible.
7. Idleness and poverty are prolific agencies in the production of crime; but intemperance is the main cause of these.
8. Truancy is regarded as one of the most common proximate causes of crime. But, among the causes of truancy, that which so far transcends all others as to be properly considered the cause of causes is the immoderate use of intoxicating liquors.
9. Intemperance is the efficient ally of other vices. Wine has been well styled "the devil's water power." Without it much of the machinery of evil would stand still. It is the life of the and surely these are hot-beds of crime.

The Board of Police Justices of the city of New York, whose testimony is valuable because of their daily observations of crime and criminals, in their annual report, say: "We are fully satisfied that intoxication is the one great leading cause which renders the existence of our police courts necessary."

The Hon. George P. Sanger, (ex-Judge of the Court of Common Pleas, and at present the United States Attorney for the District of Massachusetts), speaking from his experience as the prosecuting officer of the same district, says: "There are few criminal cases into which the use of intoxicating liquor does not more or less enter."

The authorities all agree on insanity resulting from drink. Dr. Ray, one of the first authorities in this country upon insanity, says in his "Mental Hygiene": "A potent agency in vitiating the quality of the brain is habitual intemperance, and the effect is far oftener witnessed in the offspring than in the drunkard himself. His habits may induce an attack of insanity when the predisposition exists; but he often escapes with the loss of the natural vigor and hardihood of his mind. In the offspring, however, on whom the consequences of the parental vice may be visited, to the third if not to the fourth generation, the cerebral disorder may take the form of intemperance, or vicious habits, or impulses to crime, or some minor mental obliquities."

OR IDIOCY, OR INSANITY,

As to pauperism from drink, Bishop Ireland of Minnesota, who lectured in Chicago recently, agrees with all good authorities that "three-fourths of the inmates of poor-houses and asylums, three-fourths of all who are recipients in any way of public or private charity, have been reduced to poverty through their own intemperance or through the intemperance of their natural protectors. The men who dabble about social reforms, without pointing to the saloons as the first cause of poverty and degradation talk in the air."

"Today" added the bishop, "the immediate need is to restrict within the limits the sale of alcohol and to punish the lawless of the traffic. We need to have high license and to enforce the existing liquor laws. Saloons are numerous beyond all justification. High license will reduce the number."

JAIL, HOSPITAL, POOR HOUSE, ETC.—THE CRIMES OF A YEAR IN CHICAGO.

Here are the official figures from police headquarters of some of the operations of the city police for a single year. [The whole number of arrests was 31,713, more than half of which were on charges of "drunk and disorderly." Of the whole number of prisoners, 25,010 were male, and 6,703 female; 8,675 were married, and 23,038 were single.]

HOW DISPOSED OF.

Discharged in Police Court, 11,173; sent to Reform School, 23; sent to St. Joseph's Hospital, 2; sent to County Agent, 61; sent to Catholic Asylum, 2; sent to Home for the Friendless, 91; sent to Catholic Industrial School, 42; turned over to United States Commissioner, 2; bound over to keep the peace, 224; fined in Police Court, 14,525; sentenced to House of Correction, 2,709; sent to House of Good Shepherd, 79; held to the Criminal Court, 1,946; sent to Orphan Asylum, 61; bonds forfeited, 20; married in Court, 3; sent to Washingtonian Home, 26; change of venue, 774; no jurisdiction, 1; total, 31,713.

AT THE BRIDEWELL.

Number of prisoners in the Bridewell during the year, 8,296, of whom 6,340 were males and 1,956 females. During the year the Mayor pardoned 596. Some of the offences were:

Intoxication (directly), 1,171; breach of the peace, 4,787; vagrancy, 673; gambling and disorderly houses, 169.

CRIMINAL COURT AND COUNTY JAIL.

In the county Criminal Court during the year there were 900 arraignments. The long murder trials were all "whiskey," and a large percentage of all the other cases were due directly or indirectly to the same.

Number of prisoners in County Jail during the year, 3,500.

The whole number of patients in the County Hospital during the year was 5847.

PAUPERISM AND INSANITY.

The County Agent distributed relief in the city during the year (independent, of course, of the Poor-house) to the extent of $73,222.01.

At the County Poor-house there were 739 inmates. Discharges during the year, 214; died, 81.

At the county hospital for the Insane (the Poor-house) there were 737 patients. Discharged or died during the year, 306; sent to State Hospital, at Elgin, 62.

[This county has patients at Elgin, Jacksonville, Lincoln, Kankakee, etc. It also pays for patients in various city institutions.]

CORONER AND MORGUE.

During the year the Coroner's office had 1,199 calls. Inquests were held in 911 cases.

At the Morgue there were 375 bodies during the year, mostly drowned persons, suicides and persons killed on the railroads—run over while walking on the railroad track. Nine out of ten of the bodies taken to the Morgue are victims of drink. Of the suicides the cause in 99 cases out of every 100 is drink. Most of the people drowned and killed on the railroads are found to have been under the influence of liquor at the time.

PAUPERS BURIED.

Paupers were buried in Cook County Cemetery, at county expense, as follows: Cook County Insane Asylum, 35; Cook County Poorhouse, 114; Cook County Hospital, 19; St. Luke's Hospital, 1; Hahnemann Hospital, 1; Alexian Brothers' Hospital, 1; Mercy Hospital, 2; Women and Children's Hospital, 4; Foundling's Home, 199; Home for the Friendless, 18; other places, 144; total interments, 538.

[The number of dead from the Poorhouse and Insane Asylum, and also from the Foundlings' Home, is large enough, certainly, to set people thinking.]

THE STATE REFORM SCHOOL.

Boys from Chicago in the Reform School at Pontiac during the year ending Dec. 31, 1882, 120; from balance of State, 242; total, 362.

AT JOLIET PRISON.

The following facts and figures from the Illinois State penitentiary at Joliet came to the Inter-Ocean through an official source: During the year ending Sept. 30, 1882, Joliet received 747 prisoners, including 12 received from Wyoming territory. They had on hand Sept. 30, 1882, 1,449 prisoners, including 12 Wyoming and 19 United States prisoners. They received during this period 303 from Cook county, and had on hand Sept. 30, 532 from said county. Of the 1,449 on hand Set. 30, according to their own statements when received, 565, or 39 per cent., were temperate; 467, or 32 per cent. were intemeprate, and 417, or 29 per cent. were moderate drinkers. Their statements must be taken, however, with several grains of allowance. The Rev. A. T. Briscoe, who served at Joliet as chaplain for twelve years, and who probably gave more study to the question than any one else, gives it as his opinion, based upon his investigations, and not solely upon prisoner's statements, that one-third of the whole number of convicts received at Joliet owe their downfall direct to strong drink, and one-third more can trace their fall indirectly to the same cause.

AT CHESTER PRISON.

The Rev. Fred L. Thompson, chaplain of the Southern Illinois Penitentiary, estimates that, out of 500 criminals under his observation, 419 were without home influence at 18 years and under; 218 never had been in school, and only 32 learned to read and write in prison. Of their habits, he learned that 406 frequented saloons, 115 were drunk at the time their crime was committed, 246 gambled and 208 carried concealed weapons. Over one-half (290) were under 25 years of age at the time of committing the first penitentiary crime.

THE GALLOWS.

During the year 1882 there was one execution in Chicago, that of James Tracey for the murder of a police officer.

SUMMING UP—WHAT THE SALOONS ARE RESPONSIBLE FOR.

Chicago has about 4000 licensed bars (saloons and groceries). The number of unlicensed places is not known. Various restaurants will sell liquor or beer on the sly, and it is sold in bad houses, and numerous groceries, which have no license, dole it out. Two ex-aldermen have recently been discovered to be running their large saloons without licenses, and it may be that numerous other saloons are overlooked by the license officers in the same way. Ex-city officials estimate that, in all, there are at least six thousand places in Chicago where liquor is sold and drunk. The police officially know of 150 houses of ill-fame (houses and rooms) and 750 prostitutes. Ex city officials put the number of houses and rooms at 400, and the number of prostitutes at 3,000.

The number of gambling houses in the city is 50. The annual receipts from the retail liquor traffic in Chicago are estimated by members of the Saloon-keepers' Association and city and government officials at and thirty millions of dollars.

In 1881 there were distilled in the United States 117,728,150 gallons—over 23 gallons of brandy, gin and whiskey for every man, woman and child, and there were brewed 13,347,110 barrels, or 413,760,410 gallons of beer—over eight gallons to every one of the population. And the customs duties for the year ending June 30, 1881, on imported spirits amounted to $6,469,643. In addition, there were the native wines, and also the unlimited quantities of whiskey and beer upon which the government had not been able to collect revenue. There were in July, 1881, 4,113 wholesale dealers in distilled liquors and 170,640 retail dealers, and in 1880, 2,065 wholesale dealers in fermented liquors and 8,959 retail dealers. This gave one dealer to every 270 souls. In the 1st District of Illinois—Cook, Du Page and Lake counties—there was one dealer to every 130 people. But to the saloons paying tribute to the government there must be added the unlicensed places numerous in every city. Leaving out the women and children and those who do not drink, the average to each saloon in Chicago is 25 customers who drink beyond all moderation. On this basis, there are in the country 4,000,000 of hopeless drunkards, and in Chicago and suburbs 140,000.

NO GROUND FOR COMPLAINT.

The Chicago saloon-keepers have complained and do complain that for the city to put the city license at $500 a year would be to compel them (the saloon-keepers) to pay taxes entirely out of proportion to the tax levied on other branches of business. "Other branches of business" do not cause the city and county and State the expense the retail liquor traffic does, and the public will doubtless agree, in the face of the facts presented in this article, that the complaint of the saloon keepers has no good ground. Even if the results of drunkenness were not considered at all, the general sentiment, as obtained in interviews, is that $500 a year is a small proportion of the whole taxation for the saloon-keeper to bear. At $500 a year, saloon licenses would cost less than $10 a week; at the present annual price for a license, $52, the saloon-keeper only pays $1 a week.

It has been shown from the best of authorities that most of the crime, a large proportion of the insanity, and most of the pauperism is caused directly or indirectly by the liquor traffic. The cost to the community of prosecuting and imprisoning criminals, caring for the injured and dead through accident, and caring for and burying the lunatics and paupers is immense, and yet this aggregate sum is only part of the amount the taxpayers in general have to pay every year.

A large portion of the expense the community is put to by the liquor traffic cannot be got at.

of some of the institutions, however, whose existence is made necessary for the most part by the drinking habit, as has been shown, can be and are herewith given, the figures being for a single year:

Police force, 553; cost of police force, $577,038; nineteen justices, $57,000; Bridewell, $72,373; criminal court, $50,000; county hospital, $90,981; county jail, $30,000; coroner's office, $25,000; county agent to paupers, $73,222; poorhouse, $45,339; poorhouse insane asylum, $72,642; other institutions, $50,000; burying dead, $6,000; total, $1,149,902.

The whole cost of running the State reform school at Pontiac in 1882 was $35,329 64; whole cost of running the State prison at Joliet for 1882 was $210,568 02.

The money figures are here given—grief, suffering, ruin, and death may for the moment be forgotten. With these money figures, showing the entire expense of running these institutions for a year, and with the percentages of crime, casualty, insanity, and pauperism due to drink presented above, it is easy enough to reckon how much of the total outlay is made necessary by the saloon keepers' business.

RUBBER BELTING. Important to all who use Belting! We have just patented a new article in Rubber Belting which is sold under the name of GIANT BELTING. This Belting is put with the usual plies of Duck and Rubber, and, before putting on the outside cover, it is stitched in seams one inch apart, with cotton cord, which has a pulling strength of fifty pounds. It is then stretched in its plastic state, drawing the plies so close together that with the strong cord with which it is stitched, material strength is added to the belt, and the stitches are so drawn into the plastic rubber, that they cannot wear off on the outside. The outside cover is then put on seamless, so that it cannot open, as is the case of Rubber Belting made in the ordinary way, and the plies being so firmly stitched as well as frictioned together, that the belt cannot separate as many belts made in the ordinary way will, after being used for a time, especially when run at great speed or in damp places. We particularly call the attention of all mill owners to this belt as being in the end the cheapest belt they can buy, while the first cost is only about ten per cent. more than belting made in the ordinary way. We believe it will wear more than double the length of time. For heavy main belts you will find it superior to anything made. It is also superior for Endless Belts, as we stitch the splice in such a way that it cannot separate. Try our Giant Belts. We will warrant satisfaction. "The Galled Jade Winces." In our last weeks' gentle as-a-June-zephyr tirade against the ba-ad men that, to further their own ends, seek to cast a stain on the escutcheon of the Dongola Boots fair fame, we did not have the vender of an obscure boot (made by one burke, we think but cannot swear to, they are so little known in polite circles) in our minds eye, but if the ulster is not tight across the back let him wear it. "Impudent, embossed knave," indeed! Go to! We draw from your own prolific source of epithets and term thee a painted old, a mere anatomy, a lean faced villian, a snapper up of unconsidered trifles, and more in our next. But we digress (original phrase used by all writers). Ladies will serve their own interests by examining the Dongolas before they buy a boot. The SHURTLEFF SHOE question covers a good deal of ground, for they are generally worn and we will only say now that any man that intends to take a walk around his feet this spring needs a pair. Young, and old come in and look at our fine stock of Stiff Hats; correct styles and limber prices on them. Ladies, we are having made, especially for our trade, an extra fine French Kid Boot, and shall place them on our shelves in about ten days; they are a Jacqueminot Rose among boots, so to speak. E. J. A FRIGHTFUL RECORD

Why Chicago is Democratic.

A GAMBLERS' AND RUMSELLERS' PARADISE.

A few days ago the Commercial sought to parry the almost universal acceptance of the result of the election in Chicago as a victory of the vicious and lawless, by the following paragraph:

When the Republicans used to carry Chicago by several thousand majority, that city was virtuous, yea, even godly, in the eyes of the Republican papers. Now that the people there have come to prefer the Democratic party, one would imagine to read the references to the place in the Republican papers, that every shop in the city that wasn't occupied as a "gin mill" was used as a "gambling den," or for some other nefarious purpose, and that every one of the 500,000 inhabitants of the place was either a bartender, a thief or a prostitute. What a great change has come over Chicago, to be sure.

It is safe to say that "when the Republicans used to carry Chicago by several thousand majority," that city was governed in a very different way from that in which Mayor Harrison has built up the rule of the gambling dens and rum-shops, until they reign supreme. What Democratic rule has done and is doing to demoralize and debauch the most enterprising city in the Union, is told with startling definiteness in the facts and statistics which we copy on our first page to-day from the Chicago Inter-Ocean. The record is an appalling one, and it should be read and pondered by every sober-minded and patriotic citizen as exhibiting some of the gigantic evils which go hand in hand with the political rule of the Democratic party.

THE DYNAMITE MENACE.

[N. Y. Tribune.]

The most destructive agency known to modern science appears simultaneously at the opposite poles of the circuit of European intelligence. If St. Petersburg was built as a window opening toward the continent, Moscow remained the underground chamber of the Muscovite and the Tartar—the real centre of the nation that was lowest in the scale of civilization and political government. In its tendencies it was the most mediæval city in Europe; it made the closest approach to old-time barbarism. Yet the English cities, London and Birmingham, separated from Moscow by the widest range of civilization known in the Europe of to-day, are exposed to the same deadly peril—the same paralysis of dread.

The mediæval capital where the Czar is soon to be crowned is startled by the announcement that the Nihilists have been tunnelling under the Kremlin and that a huge dynamite mine has been discovered. The modern cities are alarmed by a renewal of threats to destroy the Government buildings, the arrest of an alleged dynamite worker in the heart of the metropolis, and the discovery of a secret nitro-glycerine factory in Birmingham. In this way the centres of barbarous Europe and progressive Europe are alike exposed to the dynamite menace—the mediæval capital to the modern agencies of destruction and the modern cities to the mediæval spirit of barbarous hate.

Of the startling discoveries of dynamite working reported in the foreign despatches only one is stated with sufficient definiteness to justify deliberate consideration. This is the arrest of Whitehead, an alleged Irish-American, who leased a small building in Birmingham two months ago and is now reported to have been manufacturing nitro-glycerine. It is important to observe that nitro-glycerine, a dangerous explosive itself, is a material from which dynamite can be readily produced. Hartmann is currently reported to have obtained the dynamite used by him in Russia by manufacturing it from nitro-glycerine and sugar, and a convenient substitute for sugar has been found in pulverized wood or paper. The ordinary dynamite which is manufactured in Europe is a peculiar spongy clay, impregnated with nitro-glycerine and moulded into cartridges of moderate size. There are, however, artificial processes of producing it on a small scale which are not attended with great danger.

With an adequate supply of nitro-glycerine, dynamite can be rapidly and conveniently obtained. The discovery, therefore, of a nitro-glycerine factory, operated with considerable skill and in absolute secrecy, implies a systematic attempt on the part of Irish conspirators and desperadoes to make their own explosives and to avoid the risks of purchasing them in England and the uncertainties of shipping them from Germany, France or America. If the chemicals and products in which this alleged Irish-American, Whitehead, has been dealing are as dangerous as the despatches indicate, and he cannot give a reasonable account of his occupation, the detectives will have the credit of laying bare one of the most infernal conspiracies ever known.

The discovery of a central factory and store-house of explosives will be, if fully confirmed by subsequent disclosures, a practical demonstration of a determination on the part of a certain class of Irish-Americans to make dynamite the sole agent for the "regeneration" of Ireland. It is a fact which cannot be denied that desperadoes who may have volunteered for this dynamite campaign in England have lately received support and sympathy from a class that formerly recoiled from these diabolical agencies. The Irish World has lately been defending and advocating the use of explosives, and some of the most prominent leaders who are to take part in the approaching Philadelphia convention are converts to the new gospel of dynamite. These are facts which impart a momentous meaning to the rumors that the dynamite workers in England are Irish-Americans.

MACHINES FOR COUNTING COIN.

A PROTEST FROM MANUFACTURERS AGAINST CHANGES IN COINS.

A few days ago Director Burchard of the Mint received a letter from the manager of a company which manufactures automatic machines for counting coin, protesting against any change in the diameter or thickness of the coins now in use, on the ground that it would render useless several thousands of the automatic machines which have been sold and are now in use by the Government, by bankers, etc. The letter was based upon the supposition that an order had been issued to change the size of the 3-cent nickel piece, a supposition which was erroneous.

Director Burchard said that he regretted the company had not called his attention to the subject before the order was issued to change the form of the 5-cent nickel piece, the new coin being a trifle larger than the old one.

The Director thinks, however, that not a very large amount of new 5 cent pieces will be called for. Of 126,000,000 5-cent pieces coined, he said, more than 100,000,000 were minted prior to 1873. In 1873 the coinage was suspended, there being at that time about 12,000,000 pieces in the Treasury. This supply became exhausted a little more than one year ago, and then coinage was resumed. Last year about 11,000,000 5-cent pieces were coined. Probably 10,000,000 more will be required before the supply again exceeds the demand.

A NEW DISCOVERY.

A METAL EQUAL TO SILVER, YET LESS EXPENSIVE AND MORE USEFUL.

The N. Y. Commercial Advertiser has the following account of a new metal discovered by Mr. J. Edwin Sherman, formerly of Bucksport, and which it is claimed will largely supersede the use of silver in the useful and ornamental arts:

A new metal having been discovered by Mr. J. Edwin Sherman, the metallurgist, who claims that it has the properties of silver, and yet is as useful as many other metals, without costing near so much, a reporter of the Commercial Advertiser called upon that gentleman at his hotel to ascertain some particulars relative to the new discovery. At first Mr. Sherman was not inclined to enter into particulars as to the way he discovered the metal, which was, as he said, first the result of accident, and next the development of scientific experiments. The material from which it is produced, he said, is so cheap that it can be had for the mere carting of it away, has for many years been allowed to go to waste.

In reference to the new metal's relative comparison with silver for ornamental use, he said it is capable of sustaining a very high polish, which will not become tarnished like pure silver; therefore for spoons and forks it will be invaluable, while for ornaments, such as plate and so forth, it will supersede it in quality. The metal by tempering can be made either hard or soft, and can therefore be applied to many uses that silver is not so suitable, while in appearance it will equal it. There is very little doubt, he said, that in time it will take the place of the amalgamation now used in common plated ware, as that requires a heavy coating of silver, while the new metal needs only to be polished to make it as bright as silver. But there are other uses to which it can be applied. Being an excellent conductor of electricity, and capable of being drawn out as a wire, even to gauge 36, it is far better and cheaper than copper or the other metals used for that purpose, and has less resistance to the current.

In quite a number of ways it can take the place of tin for the covering of other metals used in domestic economy. For roofing it exceeds in quality many metals now used, and can be more easily moulded than zinc for cornices and such purposes. It is nearly as heavy as silver in gravity, yet can be rolled out to the thinness of very fine paper without breaking the edges and looks then as if it had been trimmed with a pair of shears. Although Mr. Sherman had filed his patent at Washington, he had only entered on the first stage of his experiments, as it were, and was still engaged in making researches as to the merits of his new discovery. The new metal will resist acids almost equal to gold, and therefore will not easily, if at all, corrode. There is such a difference between the new metal and silver that it could not be used by counterfeiters of coin without detection. The cost of working the metal is much less than iron, as it does not require such vast machinery to get it into shape.

The rates paid for railway mail service are soon to be readjusted, involving an expenditure of more than $13,000,000 a year.

The Poughkeepsie Eagle, in an article on "How mistakes happen in newspapers," figures up the number of type used in a newspaper the size of the Eagle at 600,000; that is the actual number of bits of metal arranged for each newspaper of that size for the press. We suppose few people think of the printing trade as one of the most exact and particular handicrafts; but it is. In making type, variations that might be allowed in the finest machinery would render type useless. It is very rarely that the type furnished by two separate foundries can be used together without a great deal of trouble even though they should try to make it alter the standard. We read once in a while of a wonderful piece of cabinet or mosaic work containing ten, twenty, or fifty thousand pieces, the maker of which has spent months or even years of labor in producing it, and the people go to see it as a curiosity; but the most elaborate and carefully fitted piece of work of this kind ever made does not compare, for minuteness of detail and accuracy of fitting, with that which the printer does every day. The man who does the first is looked upon as a marvel of skill, and, if a hundred of his pieces are put in wrong side up or turned around, it is not noticed in the general effect; but if the printer, in fitting ten times as many pieces together in a single day, puts one the wrong way, everybody sees it and is amazed at the "stupid carelessness of those printers."

Ex-Secretary Blaine expects to finish the first volume of his book during the present year. The general aim of the work is set forth in the following extracts from the preface: "The 20 years of Congress between the inauguration of Lincoln in 1861 and the inauguration of Garfield in 1881 were the most important in our history as a nation. The entire period was filled with momentous events. Legislation during the progress of the war, in aid of the great armies which upheld the government; through the period in which the Union was reconstructed on new and enduring foundations; on the finances during the era of paper money and the subsequent return to the standard of coin; on slavery, and the emancipation which came generations before philanthropists had dared to hope; on taxation, exercised and enforced to a degree beyond all precedent, yet always sustained by popular majorities; on industrial development, so wisely fastened that, despite the waste of thousands of millions by the ravages of war, the aggregate wealth of the people was doubled in a single decade—legislation on these great subjects forms the vital history of the country and is worthy of commemoration. To separate the valuable and the permanent from the valueless and transient of this historic epoch, and to give a clear and connected account of the really great events in the Senate and House of Representatives, is the aim of the work. It is not intended to be an abridgement of the proceedings of Congress or a mere compendium of debates; yet no important transaction in either branch is omitted and no discussion worthy of honorable mention is overlooked. The design necessarily includes, within the limits of careful discretion, the narrative of many facts which could not appear in an official report, as well as a fair and just estimate of the men who have been most prominent and influential in the two houses of Congress."

Under the present law small country Postmasters whose sales of stamps do not amount to more than $200 per annum retain 60 per cent of the value of stamps canceled as their salary. The reduction of letter postage to two cents would, of course, materially reduce the compensation of these small Postmasters were they to receive only the same percentage, but the new law provides that where the sales of stamps do not exceed $200 per annum the Postmasters shall, after October 1, be allowed to retain 100 per cent of the value of the stamps canceled. Judge Ela, Sixth Auditor of the Post Office Department, said Saturday that this would cut off the entire revenue from about 75 per cent of all the Post Offices in the country. In the New England and Middle States, the offices at which the sales of stamps aggregate more than enough to pay the Postmasters' salaries average about one in three; in the Western States about one in four, and in the South about one in eight. Besides the great reduction in revenue the operation of the new law will entail a great deal of additional labor on the Post Office Department. At present many small offices retain sixty per cent of the receipts and pay the other forty per cent to a carrier, who delivers the mail to and from the depots. After October 1 these small offices will retain all the receipts, and the carriers will have to be paid by warrant from the Post Office Department. Much other additional work now distributed among country Postmasters will also be transferred to the department, and it is believed that the deficiency for the first few years will be much greater than was at first expected.—Wash. Cor. Boston Journal.

Sir Walter Scott.

Sir Walter Scott was not only a versatile, prolific and interesting writer, but he was a sensible business man. He left the legacy of his genius to all mankind, but he left to his family, among other practical remembrances, life insurance in Scotch companies to the extent of one hundred thousand dollars.—Ins. Exchange.

This he did upon the old plan of life insurance. The CONNECTICUT MUTUAL LIFE INS. CO. now issue a life policy with the cash value printed into the policy, upon a 3 per cent. reserve, thus offering the most perfect contract ever known in life insurance.

KIDNEY-WORT

"Last year I went to Europe," says Henry Ward, late Col. 69th Reg., N. G. S. N. Y., now living at 173 W. Side Ave., J. C. Hights, N. J., "only to return worse, from chronic liver complaint. Kidney-Wort, as a last resort, has given me better health than I've heretofore enjoyed for many, many years." He's cured now and consequently happy.

KIDNEY-WORT

CONSTIPATION.

No other disease is so prevalent in this country as Constipation, and no remedy has ever equalled the celebrated Kidney-Wort as a cure. Whatever the cause, however obstinate the case, this remedy will overcome it.

SENSATION ON WALL STREET

Defalcation of a Well Known Operator

NEW YORK April 9 Wall street was thrown into a state of great excitement this afternoon over the report that a well known operator in stocks had defaulted to a very large amount The report was that he appropriated $100 000 of the trust funds of his family besides a large amount of property on a charge The report created the greatest excitement as the gentleman implicated is a representative of one of the most respected Hebrew families in the city.

THE TEWKSBURY ALMSHOUSE.

Continuation of the Examination.

BOSTON, April [illegible] The Tewksbury alms house hearing was resumed to-day Gov. Butler was absent Charles D. Marsh, clerk of the almshouse said the original books had been delivered last night. Mrs. Mary E Dudley, formerly night watch woman at Tewksbury testified to seeing the body of a woman and a child in a trunk Often found the children in the foundling hospital were neglected. She saw a bottle of morphine used to quiet the infants and reported it to Capt Marsh, who attended to it in ten days after One infant was given in charge of an insane inmate who smothered it with a pillow, but she was told by Capt Marsh to keep the matter quiet. Mrs Dudley said about 73 children had died in nine months and only one survived. The beds were filthy and patients were left in the cells in a destitute condition and entirely neglected.

Mrs. Davis, night nurse, said she helped to put a body into a coffin when it was warm. Saw the body of a dead patient eaten by rats which swarmed over the building. Adjourned until to-morrow.

NEW YORK, April 9. Williston Knight & Co, of 74 and 76 Worth street, the largest and oldest firm dealing in buttons in the city, suspended to-day and made a general assignment for the benefit of their creditors without preference, to J. N. Wardell. The failure caused the greatest surprise in trade on account of the high standing of the firm and its reported wealth. H. Williston Knight, junior partner is said to have embezzled over $100,000 of the firm's money and fled to Europe. Knight was a well known character about town, always had plenty of money at his command and particularly affected the society of actresses. He was known to be in a

Fast Set of Young Men,

but it was supposed the profits of his large business enabled him to spend at least $25 000 a year. Besides his connection with the firm he was Treasurer of the Williston Knight Company, of East Hampton, Mass., manufacturers of covered buttons, whose office was at 74 Worth street, the firm and company being almost identical. He used both the money of the firm and funds of the company for his own use. Notes which he drew himself as firm and company notes were disposed of in Wall street, and he pocketed the money. He was also a heavy speculator in Wall street and lost considerable sums there in the decline in stocks a few months ago Mr. H. G. Knight, Senior partner of the firm and said to-day the suspension of the firm was was wholly due to the speculations and financial irregularities of H. W. Knight. His unauthorized use of the firm's name had involved the firm in a loss of at least $75,000, and probably $30,000 more which was partially secured He could not tell definitely the amount as the investigation of the books had not been completed, but he did not think it would much exceed those figures. His son has been rather irregular in habits, but he had tried hard to check him, and when he learned of some irregular transactions about three weeks ago, he called upon his son for an explanation, which was unsatisfactory and was followed by his flight to Europe. From another source it was learned that young Knight was accompanied by an actress when he fled.

AMONG CANNIBALS.

A Connecticut Man's Perilous Adventure.

HARTFORD, Ct, April 9 About five years ago L. S. Strickland, foreman of a car shop in New Haven, left that place and went to Australia for his health. In Australia he joined a party of 13, who went on a gold prospecting expedition to the island of New Guinea, the party having been influenced by reports from missionaries that the yellow metal was plentiful there. Strickland wrote to his brother at Bristol, Ct., of the proposed trip, but no further letters were received, and he has been regarded by the family as dead. Last week, however, an envelope with his familiar handwriting was received at Bristol. It was dated February, and was written at Parramatta, a small island on the Australian coast.

Strickland tells a wonderful story. After penetrating to the interior of New Guinea without misadventure they were captured by a band of natives, who were cannibals. Eight of the party were roasted and eaten at various times. The others, whether because useful to the savages or promising to be unsavory, were spared.

After long months they escaped to the coast, and reached a settlement of Europeans. Strickland writes that it is impossible to describe the sufferings of the survivors. His brother has sent funds to him at Sydney, and he expects to reach Connecticut this summer.

The Law in Regard to Explosives.

LONDON, April 9. The bill to amend the law in regard to explosives introduced in Commons this afternoon by Sir William Harcourt and read a first time was then taken up in Committee of the Whole and passed through the committee without being altered. Progress was then reported and amid cheers the bill passed its second reading. The Government was much surprised at the prompt action taken on the bill, as they expected it would be considered longer in the committee.

The bill provides that the maximum penalty for causing an explosion by which life or property is imperilled shall be punishable by lifelong servitude. An attempt to cause an explosion is made punishable by imprisonment for a term of twenty years. Persons supplying money or material incur the same penalty as the principals. The bill also empowers the master of any vessel to break open any packages to search for explosives. The act applies both to explosives proper and to the materials for making them, or any machine, or part thereof, connected with them. It contains no retrospective clause.

After it had passed in Commons the bill was immediately sent to the House of Lords, where it was adopted without delay. Royal assent will be received by telegraph to-day and the act will become a law to-morrow.

SUPREME JUDICIAL COURT

April (Civil) Term

JOHN APPLETON, C. J, Presiding.
CHARLES F. SWEET, Clerk.
ROEL SMITH, Stenographer.

Monday, April 9.

Andrew Kelley vs. Warren Bragg. The form of the plaintiff's action is trespass quare clausum fregit and he alleges that the defendant broke and entered his close on Fourth street in Bangor by setting out certain shade trees on his own land, so near the division line between his close and the plaintiff's, that when they began to thrive and grow and extend their branches beyond their trunks they overhung the land of the plaintiff, and the plaintiff testified that they even extended to the roof of his dwelling, and the long heavy branches when swayed by the wind occasionally tore off a shingle, and sometimes wild, stormy nights were made more hideous by the swaying to and fro of the ponderous branches, often hitting, as the plaintiff said, "quite a good swipe." That after repeated and unavailable efforts to get the defendant to lop off the offending branches he brought this suit; that on the next day after the suit was brought the defendant commenced a similar action against him for allowing some of the limbs of a fruit tree on the lower part of his garden to extend beyond the division line, which action the plaintiff immediately settled by paying twenty-five cents damage and the costs of the case up to the time of settlement and by cutting down the tree. The plaintiff claims that when he saw the defendant [illegible] he was a little ugly too and he [illegible] all his rights that the law will give [illegible]

After the testimony of the plaintiff had been put in, Mr. Hamlin, counsel for defendant, claimed that the suit could not be maintained in this form of action; that quare clausum is the form where from the [illegible] trespass will inevitably result, as [illegible] the servant of the defendant placed [illegible] and rubbish so near and in such a condition that it must roll down into the land of the plaintiff; that it cannot be said that the inevitable result of planting on the defendant's a shade tree, which may or may not grow and may or may not extend its branches, will be trespass on the plaintiff's close.

The Court allowed the plaintiff to amend his writ by adding a new count, and allowed the defendant a few hours to prepare to meet the amended form of the writ.

A Gala Time in Norombega Hall—Exhibition Drill and Ball—An Enjoyable Occasion.

Norombega Hall was last evening filled with a large party to witness the exhibition drill by the Jameson Guards and to participate in the ball which followed. At an early hour the galleries were crowded and before the Jamesons marched into the hall the double row of settees arranged on the floor under the galleries was also occupied.

Andrews' Orchestra of twelve pieces occupied seats on the stage, discoursing brilliant and inspiring selections previous to the arrival of the military company and at intervals between the different movements of the drill. Upon the platform were observed many prominent military individuals arrayed in their bright uniforms. The Jamesons met with a warm reception as they marched into the hall and the first impression given was a very creditable one

Among the military representatives observed in attendance were Col. A. C. Hamlin and Col F. D. Pullen, both of the Governor's Staff, Col. Daniel White; Major E. E Sanger, Surgeon, Lieut. J. L Howe, Acting Adjutant, and Capt. McFadden, Quarter Master, of the Second Maine Regiment; Capt W. F. Harding and Lieuts. Emerson and Mason, of Co. A, of Hampden, Lieut. Doyle, of Co. B, of Oldtown; Capt. J. D. Maxfield and Lieut. Sturtevant, of Co C, of Dexter; Lieut Howe, of U S A, stationed at State College, Orono, and Major Wm Z Clayton, formerly Captain of the Jamesons. Later in the evening, Col I. S Bangs, of Waterville, and other members of the grand officers of the Knights Templar were in attendance by invitation.

The exhibition drill proved a very interesting entertainment and the remarkable proficiency shown was favorably commented on by all present. During the drill the Jamesons were under the command of Lieut. A R Williamson, who is a very capable officer and a drill master of rare qualifications During the first evolutions twenty-four men participated in the drill and later sixteen men were in the ranks. The company in their marching exhibited a superiority that has not often been equalled in our city and in their manual of arms, bayonet exercise and silent manual showed evidence of the careful training which they have been under for some time past and appeared in a manner which reflected greatly to their credit. The audience manifested their hearty appreciation in frequent rounds of applause.

An individual prize drill was participated in and was witnessed with interest. There were four contestants, namely, Sergeant Joseph Greenyer, Corporal John F Ford and Privates Thomas Murray and James Diveny. The committee to award the prizes was composed of Col. A C Hamlin, of Bangor, Capt. J D. Maxfield, of Dexter, and Lieut. Howe, of the U. S. A The awards were finally decided upon as follows 1st to John F. Ford, 2nd to Thomas Murray and 3rd to James Diveny.

The drill was followed by the ball, which was participated in by a very large number, the spacious hall giving splendid opportunity for dancing and inspiring music being supplied by Andrews' Orchestra Col. Frank D. Pullen officiated gracefully as floor director and was assisted by a large number of efficient aides At intermission an adjournment was made to the American House where Landlord Chase furnished a sumptuous repast for the large party The dancing was continued until a late hour and all pronounced it a most happy occasion.

We congratulate Capt. Jas. F. Maloney for the creditable appearance of his company and also for the excellent manner in which all the arrangements for the drill and ball were so successfully carried out.

The officer found the dog at the place announced, but he was so far from dangerous that he died before the officer could shoot him. It was a narrow escape for the dog.

The News says for several years a herd of deer have been known to roam about the vicinity of North Waterford, and have been allowed to go unmolested, though at times their winter yards have been within a few rods of the highway. On Tuesday, the 27th of March, some men came from Lovell and gave chase and captured two deer, which they took away in a pung. A few days after, they captured a third doe and two bucks, which latter being unruly, were hitched up to a tree and very conveniently strangled themselves while the men were taking the doe away. Another deer was run down with dogs, and was said to have been so mangled that it was necessary to kill it, and was dispatched by Stoneham parties. There is considerable indignation expressed by the North Waterford people, and without doubt the matter will be thoroughly investigated.

As he was standing at his post by the gates he saw a young lady who was coming up the street, stop on the track in front of the locomotive which was then distant about ten feet from her. She seemed in no hurry and was really in the way to have been killed when Mr. Owen, springing forward, drew her away just in time. He found out then that she was deaf, and had not seen the engine, so that she was unaware of the danger she was in until it was past. Mr. Owen says his heart was in his mouth when he saw her position, but says he grabbed her, as he was bound to save her.

AYER'S PILLS.

A large proportion of the diseases which cause human suffering result from derangement of the stomach, bowels, and liver. AYER'S CATHARTIC PILLS act directly upon these organs, and are especially designed to cure the diseases caused by their derangement, including Constipation, Indigestion, Dyspepsia, Headache, Dysentery, and a host of other ailments, for all of which they are a safe, sure, prompt, and pleasant remedy. The extensive use of these PILLS by eminent physicians in regular practice, shows unmistakably the estimation in which they are held by the medical profession.

These PILLS are compounded of vegetable substances only, and are absolutely free from calomel or any other injurious ingredient.

A Sufferer from Headache writes:

"AYER'S PILLS are invaluable to me, and are my constant companion. I have been a severe sufferer from Headache, and your PILLS are the only thing I could look to for relief. One dose will quickly move my bowels and free my head from pain. They are the most effective and the easiest physic I have ever found. It is a pleasure to me to speak in their praise, and I always do so when occasion offers.

W. L. PAGE, of W. L. Page & Bro."

Franklin St., Richmond, Va., June 3, 1882.

"I have used AYER'S PILLS in numberless instances as recommended by you, and have never known them to fail to accomplish the desired result. We constantly keep them on hand at our home, and prize them as a pleasant, safe, and reliable family medicine. FOR DYSPEPSIA they are invaluable.

J. T. HAYES."

Mexia, Texas, June 17, 1882.

The REV. FRANCIS B. HARLOWE, writing from Atlanta, Ga., says: "For some years past I have been subject to constipation, from which, in spite of the use of medicines of various kinds, I suffered increasing inconvenience, until some months ago I began taking AYER'S PILLS. They have entirely corrected the costive habit, and have vastly improved my general health."

AYER'S CATHARTIC PILLS correct irregularities of the bowels, stimulate the appetite and digestion, and by their prompt and thorough action give tone and vigor to the whole physical economy.

HEART DISEASE!

IS YOUR HEART SOUND?

Many people think themselves sick and doctor for kidney or liver troubles, or dyspepsia, while if the truth were known, the real cause is in the heart. The renowned Dr. Clendinning, startlingly says "one-third of my subjects show signs of heart disease." The heart weighs about nine ounces, and yet man's twenty-eight pounds of blood passes through it once in a minute and a half, resting not day or night! Surely this subject should have careful attention. Dr. Graves a celebrated physician has prepared a specific for all heart troubles and kindred disorders. It is known as Dr. Graves' Heart Regulator and can be obtained at your druggists, $1 per bottle, six bottles for $5 by express. Send stamp for Dr. Graves' thorough and exhaustive treatise. (1) F. E. Ingalls, Sole American Agent, Concord, N. H.

Inflammatory Rheumatism Cured.

"AYER'S SARSAPARILLA has cured me of the Inflammatory Rheumatism, with which I have suffered for many years.

W. H. MOORE."

Durham, Ia., March 2, 1882.

"Eight years ago I had an attack of Rheumatism so severe that I could not move from the bed, or dress, without help. I tried several remedies without much if any relief, until I took AYER'S SARSAPARILLA, by the use of two bottles of which I was completely cured. I have not been troubled with the Rheumatism since. I have sold large quantities of your SARSAPARILLA, and it still retains its wonderful popularity. The many notable cures it has effected in this vicinity convince me that it is the best blood medicine ever offered to the public.

E. F. HARRIS."

River St., Buckland, Mass., May 13, 1882.

"Last March I was so weak from general debility that I could not walk without help. Following the advice of a friend, I commenced taking AYER'S SARSAPARILLA, and before I had used three bottles I felt as well as I ever did in my life. I have been at work now for two months, and think your SARSAPARILLA the greatest blood medicine in the world.

Terrible Suffering.

Kidney and Bladder Complaints of Many Years Duration—His Word as Good as Gold—Case of City Assessor Francis Gomard, 89 Sumner St., Lowell, Mass.

"His word is as good as a bank note at any bank in Lowell, and I know it," was the opinion of a well known citizen in speaking of City Assessor Francis Gomard. Your reporter found Mr. Gomard at his pleasant home, which, with many others, adorns Sumner street and fronts the charming park of South Common. Mr. Gomard said, "I had been, as many of my friends in Lowell know, a great sufferer from kidney and urinary troubles for a long time. My physician said it was the result of diseased kidneys and enlargement of the prostate gland. I had suffered terribly, and although my doctor's treatment had been the best which this city afforded, I got no better. Said finally, 'Doctor, it's no use. You have done all that is in your power to do, I know that; but I must get help from some other source or die.' Finally I was induced to try Dr. Kennedy's FAVORITE REMEDY, a medicine which had been recommended very highly for kidney diseases. I received help at once. It has acted like a charm with me. Why so? Dr. Kennedy's FAVORITE REMEDY is an honest preparation, and I know it. I didn't think anything would help me, but this has given me better health than any medicine ever prescribed for me. I have recommended it to ever so many of my friends in the city of Lowell, and with the same result. They think there is nothing like Dr. Kennedy's FAVORITE REMEDY."

What Mr. Gomard says can be depended upon, as any one acquainted with the gentleman knows.
